Good Morning,

We are interested in your minis and have some questions after reviewing your website. What hereditary problems have you had with your puppies? Any slipped discs? When do you have fecal exams for worms? When do you treat puppies for worms? What vaccines do you use?

Do you treat for fleas/ticks? What medication do you use?

Can you provide a SEVEN day written health guarantee? Many problems take 48 hours to incubate, so some parasites and viruses will not show up in three days, which is in your contract. Would you be agreeable to a seven day health guarantee?

What is your state and county license number?

When will you move into your new facility? Will you live on site with the puppies?

Have you had Parvo in your kennel?

Before purchasing, we always want to answer these questions and hope you understand.

The purchase of a puppy is a life experience.

Thank you for your information,

Tom & Ann Earley

Dear Friends,

If you are receiving this message, it is because we are frightened of this situation. Our good friends, Barbara and Michael Jacoby, have decided to purchase two miniature Dachshunds. Because Dr. David Filer purchased a puppy from Keystone Kennel, we suggested that they contact them. They met with Ian & Patti McCarty not at their kennel, but at their trailer home. They said that they were in the process of moving the kennel, but had several of their adult Dachshunds and also two pretty puppies. Barbara and Michael fell in love with two puppy girls and put money on their purchase, which will be in two weeks. At this time they are still too young.

In the meantime, Barbara Googled Keystone Kennel and was shocked by a story: <http://www.hstrial-redwards4.homestead.com/>

Check it out and see what you think.

In the meantime, I sent the e-mail below to the kennel to ask a few more important questions. What do you think of the reply from the kennel owners? We feel threatened by the remark.

Let me know what you think. It would be greatly appreciated.

Thanks again,

Tom & Ann

Tom and Ann Early (Earley?)

Thank you very much for your interest in our kennel and puppies. However we have decided to make some changes in our lives and invest in high-power firearms. We do not have any puppies for sale at this time.
